Are you curious to know if someone blocked you on WhatsApp? If that's the case then definitely this WhatsApp block checker list on TechUntold will answer most of your questions. We will help you find out if you have been blocked on WhatsApp. If for a specific WhatsApp contact you observe the following things mentioned below then it signals that you have been blocked by that contact on WhatsApp. 1. Firstly, go to the contact on WhatsApp that you suspect has blocked you on WhatsApp. Try to see the time that comes under the name of that contact at the top of the conversation as shown in the screenshot below. You won't be able to see this person's time information if the contact isn't online at that moment. The status Online will also not be visible even if the contact is online at that time. 2. You will not be able to see that WhatsApp contact's profile picture if he/she has blocked you. 3. Moreover, you will also not be able to see About by that WhatsApp contacts. 4. You cannot see any changes to that person's profile. The 24-hour status or WhatsApp stories will be visible to you only if they uploaded it before blocking you. Their new statuses will not be visible to you. 5. If someone has blocked you on WhatsApp, the messages you send will not be delivered to that contact. This means that any message you send has only one gray tick forever. You don't see double or blue ticks for recently sent messages. Note: The messages you sent to this contact during the period when you were blocked by this contact will not be delivered even if the WhatsApp contact removes you from their blocked list in the future. 6. You will not be able to make WhatsApp calls or video calls to that contact. That is, Calling when you call from your WhatsApp account and will never switch to Ringing. The user who has blocked you will never receive any call at the end. How do you know if someone blocked you on WhatsApp or it's just privacy settings? All the things in the above points are possible even if they have not blocked you. They may have uninstalled their WhatsApp after using all their privacy. So you can try adding them to a new group or group that already exists. If the person has really blocked you, you won't be able to add them. When you try, says the pop-up window Could not add XYZ. READ ALSO: How to track WhatsApp Messages, conversations, text messages and more If you notice all of the above for a specific WhatsApp contact, there is a high possibility that the WhatsApp contact has blocked you. There is no way to check directly which contacts have blocked you. WhatsApp has implemented it that way intentionally with regard to your privacy when you block someone. That said, if all of the above qualifies then you can almost be that the WhatsApp contact has blocked you. You. Tip: Know if someone deleted your number on WhatsApp (Android/iPhone) This procedure requires no third-party apps. We will use the broadcast feature of WhatsApp to find out if someone has your contact number saved on WhatsApp or not. This tweak works for Android as well as for iPhone. 1) Open WhatsApp and create a broadcast list. 2) Add the contact to the broadcast list that you want to check if they have saved your number or not. You must select at least a few numbers to create a broadcast list. Add one of your friends to create the list. 3) Now send a message, can be a funny message or others in the list. 4) Then come out of the broadcast list and send a message separately to the specific contact that you want to check if he/she has saved your number on the WhatsApp contact list or not. 5) Now see if the message sent by you through broadcast has a single tick and the message sent separately has a double check mark. If this is the case, the contact has deleted you on WhatsApp. If the broadcast message and message sent by you separately, both have double check mark, your contact has number already stored on your WhatsApp contact list. 6) If both messages have a single check mark, then wait for a few hours as he/she may have turned off the Internet connection. 7) Check for long hours still if you see easily ticked for the message sent separately (without broadcast), you need to check if the contact has blocked you on WhatsApp or not. NOTE: The broadcast messages are sent to only those who have saved your contact to their WhatsApp contact list. With this, you can easily find out if someone has deleted you on WhatsApp or not. We hope that you are able to find out if someone blocked you on WhatsApp or not after reading this article. Let us know in case of further questions. However, things have changed in recent years with chat apps such as WhatsApp and Facebook Messenger, including calling features. Although it seems easy to use them, these features have a check mark or two. All your questions will be answered and you may consider this post as your WhatsApp call guide. The call feature on WhatsApp works the same way as in other apps. You can make a voice or video call over the Internet, make a group call, put your phone on a speaker, and even mute the conversation. Let's see how to perform various call-related features in WhatsApp, along with some tips and tricks. You will also get to know what works and what doesn't work in WhatsApp conversations. Let's get started.1. How to make a WhatsApp CallCalling people on WhatsApp is a cakewalk. On both Android and iPhone, all you have to do is open the contact in WhatsApp that you want to call, and then press the voice call button. If you want to a video call, tap call button. 2. Make calls work on WhatsApp WebAs now, WhatsApp web does not support voice or video calls. You won't even be notified of the incoming call. Only when the call is disconnected will you see the missed call text inside the chat online. 3. How to identify WhatsApp CallsAll incoming WhatsApp conversations show whatsapp text to distinguish it from regular phone calls. You can find it either in the status bar or on the WhatsApp call screen. 4. Answer and reject the WhatsApp call Method to answer or reject the call changes whether the phone is locked or not. Let's check it separately for Android and iPhoneOn Android, tap the Reply button if your phone is unlocked. If your phone is locked, you'll see a different call screen. Swipe up from the green button to accept the call. Swipe up on the red button to reject the call. On your iPhone, when the phone is unlocked, press the blue Accept button to answer the call. Tap Decline to reject it. If your phone is locked, swipe right on the Slide button to answer. To reject the call, press the physical power button twice. 5. Switch between voice and video callsIf you are on a voice call with someone, you can switch to a video call by pressing the video button on the call screen. The call does not connect automatically. The other person will receive a notification that you are trying to call them on video. Tip: You can also switch from video to voice call in WhatsApp. For that, press the video off button. Yes, our beloved WhatsApp supports group calls too. You can have up to four participants in WhatsApp group conversations. And participants don't have to be from a WhatsApp group only. You can also have a group call without a WhatsApp group. There are three ways to make a group call on WhatsApp.Method 1: Open the group from a groupFor it, and tap the conversation icon at the top. Select the contacts you want to call. Method 2: From the Calls tabFor it, go to the Conversations tab on Android or iPhone. Tap the new call icon. It is present at the top of the iOS interface. On Android, you'll find it at the bottom. Select New group call. Search for the participants and call. Method 3: From individual callsFor that, you must first call one contact. Then, when connected, tap add participant icon when it comes to Android and Add call to iPhone.7. Who can connect whatsapp callAnyone of participants can disconnect from the WhatsApp conversation. If there are only two participants, the conversation will be disconnected from both sides. During group conversations, the conversation will continue for the rest of the participants if you disconnect it from your Page.8. Remove a participant from a group conversationYou can't remove a participant from a group call, even if you're a group admin. The person must disconnect the call on their own. Alternatively, all participants must disconnect the call and make a group call again without the said person.9. Check WhatsApp DurationYou will find all the details of your previous WhatsApp calls under the Calls tab in WhatsApp.To check call duration on Android, tap the contact name in the Conversations tab. You will see a detailed call history with time, duration, and even the amount of data consumed during the call. On your iPhone, tap the i icon next to the person's name to see the call details. 10. Delete missed calls on WhatsAppTo delete a missed call from a contact, go to the Conversations tab in WhatsApp on both Android and iPhone. Then, on Android, long tap the contact with missed calls you want to delete. Tap the delete icon at the top. Swipe left on the contact name on your iPhone. Tap Edit at the top of the Call tab on your iPhone. Then tap Delete. 12. Is it necessary to be online to receive WhatsApp CallsNo. Being online is not a requirement for WhatsApp conversations. The phone still rings even if you are not using WhatsApp.13. Will WhatsApp Call If the recipient no longer has App InstalledYer and no. It will call from your side, but since the recipient does not have the app, they will not be notified of it.14. Will WhatsApp Call When your phone is offIt depends on the internet because WhatsApp needs internet connection to work. So if you turn off your SIM card or mobile data, but you have a working Wi-Fi connection, call WhatsApp. However, if you do not have access to Wi-Fi, WhatsApp calls will not call. For airplane mode, you will not receive calls. Click here to see our How-to/Guides articles page Sometimes, when you talk to someone via WhatsApp chat and you try to call them, you can get the person is unavailable incorrectly. It happens mostly if the person is in a country where WhatsApp calls are not available, such as UAE.16. The difference between call declined and not answeredWhen you call someone on WhatsApp and they disconnect from the call, then you get the call declined message. The unanswered call means the person didn't answer the phone. They may be busy or out of range.17. What happens to WhatsApp calls when you block someoneWhen you block a person, you won't receive calls or messages. However, the call will ring normally on their side. It is done so that it does not become apparent that you have blocked them. Find out in detail what happens when you block someone on WhatsApp. 18. Make WhatsApp Calls Appear on Phone BillNo. WhatsApp calls do not appear in the specified part of the phone bill.19. Are WhatsApp Calls FreeKind of. They will not be considered under the regular call schedule of the network operator. However, since WhatsApp uses data, the amount charged will depend on your internet plan.20. Reduce data used in conversationsIf you feel whatsapp is using a lot of data, you can reduce it using the built-in setting in WhatsApp. For that, to WhatsApp > data and storage usage. Enable the toggle next to Low data usage. 21. Call Waiting in WhatsApp WhatsApp recently introduced the functionality of the call waiting for WhatsApp. Meaning, if you are on a WhatsApp call and someone else calls you on WhatsApp, you will now be notified of it. You can either accept the new call or decline it. You'll see two options (Quit and Accept and Decline) when you get a new WhatsApp call while you're still in a conversation. The former will end the existing call and connect you to the new call. The Decline option rejects the new call and keeps you connected to the existing call. Note: You will see similar options if you receive a regular phone call while on a WhatsApp call. Bonus: How to turn off Call Option in WhatsApp If you don't like the WhatsApp calls, or if someone bothers you on WhatsApp calls, you need to block the contact. Unfortunately, you cannot disable the call function. You also can't block WhatsApp video or voice calls just without affecting your messages. However, to avoid WhatsApp calls, you can disable the WhatsApp call notification. Doing so will make the WhatsApp conversations quiet. So even if you get a call, you won't be disturbed. To turn off WhatsApp call notifications, open WhatsApp settings on your Android phone. Go to Notifications. Scroll down and tap Ringtone. Select None from the audio selector. You can also turn off the vibration. Note: This feature is only available in the Android version of WhatsApp. Next up: Thinking about changing your WhatsApp number?
